

ROY G BIV Gallery for Emerging Artists is currently looking for entries for Time-Sensitive, an exhibition held at The Ohio State University Urban Arts Space, located at 50 W Town Street, Columbus, OH 43215 from October 2010 - January 2011. Ola Ståhl will select the artwork. Group exhibitions may be submitted with a concept proposal for the space.

Time-Sensitive will feature artists who explore the idea of the ephemeral. Ephemeral artworks fade, disappear, or simply “end” due to the materials or time that they inhabit. The artworks in Time-Sensitive will explore the impermanent and the transitory, as well as disintegration and decay. These investigations will hopefully encourage momentary (yet lasting) impressions on the viewer.

About the Juror:

Ola Ståhl is a writer, cultural theorist and sound & text based artist based in Malmö, Sweden. He received his BA with First Class Honours in The History of Art, Design and Film with Professional Writing from Sheffield Hallam University, and his MA with Distinction in The Social History of Art and PhD in Cultural Studies from the Department of Fine Art, Art History and Cultural Studies at The University of Leeds. He is a founding member of artist collective C.CRED with which he has participated in several international art exhibitions and festivals.

About OSU Urban Arts Space Vision and Mission:

The Ohio State University Urban Arts Space challenges our ways of thinking about the performing and visual arts and their role in everyday life through conversation, art-making, and experimentation. The OSU Urban Arts Space encourages transformative experiences that expand worldviews, offer hands-on practical experiences in the arts and education, and develop new career skills to reflect an entrepreneurial culture. Located in the heart of downtown Columbus, the OSU Urban Arts Space joins the university with the state of Ohio and the world, functioning as an arts laboratory for Ohio State faculty and community artists and serving as a professional launching pad for Ohio State students.

About ROY G BIV:

ROY has been dedicated to supporting emerging artists since 1989, featuring thousands of artists during its twenty-one years of existence. We pride ourselves on bringing new and exciting art monthly to the Short North.

ENTRY FEE

There is a $30 entry fee for non-members.

Entry fee is waived for Artist level and above members of ROY.

For more information on becoming a member, please visit www.roygbivgallery.org/membership.

ENTRY PROCEDURE

We are accepting images of and/or proposals for single artworks, installations, and performances that deal with the idea of the ephemeral.

For consideration, the artist must submit four to six jpeg images 1MB or larger in size that are labeled with last name and slide number (ex. smith01.jpg).

Each set of jpegs must be accompanied by an image list containing the following information for each submitted image: number, title of work, date of work, medium. The image list must be in .doc or PDF format labeled with last name (ex. smithimagelist.doc).

Artists may submit up to 2 videos. Videos must be submitted in Quicktime (.mov) format with 740 X 480 aspect ratio for widescreen or 640 X 480 for fullscreen. The first two minutes of each video will be reviewed. Videos should not exceed a playing time of 10 minutes per video.

Submissions must include an artist statement and a resume in PDF or .doc format, labeled with last name (ex. smithstatement.doc).

Artworks incorporating 2-D and 3-D elements must be made of ephemeral material. Such material is impermanent, non-archival, and/or constantly changing in time.

Due to health concerns, artworks comprised of materials that attract insects and vermin cannot be exhibited. Materials must not be hazardous for indoor display, as all artworks will be displayed within the Urban Arts Space Lower Gallery.

Due to the nature of ephemeral materials, artworks in the exhibition will not be insured by The Ohio State University Urban Arts Space.

Please send all application materials to entries@roygbivgallery.org with the subject header: “TIME-SENSITIVE - URBAN ARTS SPACE” by Saturday, August 28, 2010.

No other supplemental materials will be taken into consideration during the jury process.

Incomplete applications will not be considered.

Images of selected artwork will be retained for exhibition promotion use.
